A Reliable Remedy for Croup. With the dry, cold weather of the early winter months, parents of croupy children should be on the alert for ominous symptoms. There is no cause for anxiety, however, when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is kept in the home. If this medicine is given as soon as child becomes hoarse or even after the croupy cough has appeared, the attack may be ward off. Mrs. S. Rosenthal, of Turner, Michigan, says: "We have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for ourselves and children for several years and like it very much. I think it is the only remedy for croup and can highly recommend it." For sale by all druggists.

JAP WAS GLAD IN COMPLETE UNIFORM

Former Soldier of Mikado
Passed Through City
With Companions.

On several occasions the theory has been advanced that the Japanese arriving in great numbers along the west coast of Mexico and Lower California and the scores of them arriving along the Texas and Arizona borders are part of a Japanese military invasion of the United States. This may be a little stretching of the truth but it is nevertheless true that some of the Japs who are now entering the United States have been seen on fields of war.

A Japanese in full military uniform with the exception of blanket and provisions passed through Albuquerque recently with a number of his countrymen, was seen walking about the station platform taking in the sights.

The empire of Nippon and the fields of Manchuria were represented in the long coat and the loosely hanging head shield worn by the brown men of the far east. He was clad in heavy shoes, wore dark blue trousers and a heavy uniformed overcoat, at the top of which was attached the heavy hood so familiar in the pictures of the Japanese as they made their fatal assaults on the legions of the czar. The latter hung loose and the Jap wore a small cap in its place. The big coat was long, reached below the knees and was divided at the waistline. It was adorned with gilded buttons along the front and at the sleeves.

Several companions of the war-torned brown man were dressed in civilian clothes and carried small grips, large enough to hold a full uniform of clothing of the same kind.

Five Entered United States. Five Japanese were admitted through the El Paso immigration station yesterday and the destination of all of them, as has been the case for months past, is the United States. Three of them had tickets to Canada for otherwise they would have been excluded from the shores of the land of the free. However, their tickets will not prevent them from stopping off in the United States—and this is what they are doing. One of the Japs was a student and he was admitted without question. The other was a hotel keeper in a Japanese city and he was admitted.

Several instances that are conclusive proof that the Japs who buy tickets to Canada do it only to get into the United States at the El Paso port of entry have occurred at the immigration station there lately. Several days ago one of them wanted a ticket to Vancouver and one was made out to him via the Rock Island road. When the brown man found that the must travel that route he objected and he gave as his reason that he had a friend in Denver and wanted to go by way of the Santa Fe. That the Jap would go no further than Denver is pretty certain in the estimation of the immigration officers. However, the law is technical and that settles it.
